Where Santa Comes From

The Legend of the Christmas Stocking

MANY, many years ago there lived in Europe a very wealthy man named St. Nicholas. He liked nothing better than to help poor people, but disliked very much being thanked for his gifts. One Christmas Eve he wished to give a purse of gold to an old man and his little daughter, and in order to escape being seen, he climbed to their roof and dropped his precious gift down the chimney. Instead of landing on the hearth, however, the purse fell right into a stocking which was hung up to dry, and the next morning it was discovered there! When other people heard of the strange happening they too hung up their stockings, and soon all over the land it became the custom on Christmas Eve to hang up one's stocking for St. Nicholas to fill.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Seventy-two railway freight cars of Christmas trees have this year been shipped from Vancouver Island to all parts of the United States.

A Japanese government spokesman declared that resumption of diplomatic relations between Russia and China was most unlikely to Japan.

For the first time Canada will be host to 31 countries which participate in the Pacific science congress in the summer of 1933.

St. Nicholas, the traditional original of Santa Claus, was fêted throughout Italy December 6, on the 1580th anniversary of his death.

Documents indicating that the North American continent was discovered in 1482 by the Portuguese navigator, Pedro Vazquez de la Mota, have been discovered.

The king took two firsts and a second prize with three-year-old red-poll heifers at the annual pre-Christmas fair cattle show at Norwich, England.

Finding that cattle hides could not even be given away, a Ukrainian settlement in Alberta planned to establish a tannery and a shoe factory in the near future, G. W. Sikевич told an audience at Winnipeg.

The board of railway commissioners has no jurisdiction to make contributions from the grade crossing fund to works which do not eliminate the crossing itself, the supreme court of Canada has decided.

Somewhat resembling a moratorium legislation is being considered by the Alberta Government to aid farmer debtors, it is learned. It is expected the legislation will be placed before the legislature when it opens some time in January.

Disregarding friendly advice of Great Britain, Japan instructed its delegation at Geneva to reject the proposal that an international conciliation commission be created to attempt a settlement of the China-Japan controversy over Manchuria.

Cheapening the Dollar

United States Senator Favors Temporary Suspension Of Gold Standard

United States Senator Ellsworth Smith, Democrat from South Carolina, told newspapermen he favored a "temporary suspension" of the gold standard by the United States to "cheapen the dollar and increase commodity prices."

As an example, he said cotton was selling for 11 cents a pound in Liverpool, but that this meant only five cents in the United States by the time exchange had been made.

"Cheapening the dollar by suspending the gold standard temporarily," Smith concluded, "would raise commodity prices and aid the farmer and industry."

Most Beautiful Words

Last Of Ten Selected By New York Post

Wilfred F. Funk, poet and dictionary publisher of New York, lists what he considers the 10 most beautiful words in the English language—"beautiful in meaning and in the musical arrangement of their letters."

His list compiled after a "thorough shifting of thousands of words," follow: Dawn, Hush, Lullaby, Mourn, Tranquil, Mist, Luminous, Chimes, Golden, Melody.

"The long vowel sounds and the soft consonants make these words flow smoothly," Mr. Funk said.

Spanish Cabinet Criticized

But Republicans Come To Defence Of Author Members

Criticism of a new Republican cabinet of Spain on the ground that half of its members are authors has brought a reply from champions of the new regime. They declare that Blasco Ibanez, the novelist, with his many political activities proved that all authors are not always dreamy and impractical persons. They also point out that Premier MacDonald of England, Mussolini, Lenin, Trotsky, and others were journalists before they became powers in their countries.

Side Line For Fishermen

Fishermen during 1928 made a gross income of $134,000 through the sale of 2,344,000 pounds of fish scales. These were sold to paint manufacturers for use in "pearlrescence" paint.

New Uniform

British Tommy To Be Clothed In More Comfortable Fashion

The Dominion troops set an example to the Old Country during the war of uniforms giving utility and comfort rather than parade ground smartness. The new uniforms intended for the British army which were shown in London by the war office are more easy wearing than anything conceived of before. They suggest Boy Scouts and week-end hikers more than the old-style of His Majesty's regiments.

The cap is not the stiff, peaked variety, it is a hat with wide brim giving shade to eyes and neck and it is of a soft material and can be rolled up and put in the pocket. It has no chin strap or other kind of fastener and one imagines that if a line of soldiers are on parade every hat will be at a different angle and every brim will be napping in the wind.

Instead of the tight tunic with thick collar buttoning close up the neck the new jacket is loose fitting and has an open neck. It has pouch pockets and the buttons are of gun metal instead of brass which needs to be polished.

Life Has Been Exciting

Former British War Secretary Has Always Lived Dangerously

Major-General, the Right Hon. Sir John Reely, former Secretary of War and Under Secretary for Air, attained his 64th birthday recently, much to the surprise of everyone, especially himself. He has always lived dangerously and has had many hairbreadth escapes. Among his many thrilling experiences are falling a sheer 200 feet down a cliff, facing a hostile rifle at 15 yards, when a miss seemed impossible, and escaping from a plane when the petrol tank exploded at an altitude of 4,000 feet. His hook of personal adventures makes exciting reading.

A Strange Occupation

Science May Do Away With Smoke Watchers In England

Smoke watching, one of Britain's strangest occupations, is declining. Perfect firing of boilers makes for soot-laden air, and many firms send old employees to the roofs of power stations and factories. They sit with a piece of mica glass in their hands, and when they can see smoke through the dark glass they signal the boiler-room and the fuel supply is cut down.

Scientists, however, have perfected a device by which, if smoke becomes too heavy in a chimney, a warning bell is sounded and the boiler-room attendants know they have been firing too heavily.

The smoke watchers, whose profession is threatened by this device, work in eight-hour shifts, day and night, rain or sunshine.—Answers.

Holland Solves Difficulty

The aquarium at Amsterdam, Holland, has the reputation of being the only one which has been successful in housing a school of herring. The difficulties in keeping these fish in aquarium quarters, it is said, is that they jump into the rocks at night and kill themselves. Officials at the Amsterdam aquarium have overcome this obstacle by providing the herring with a night lamp.

Have Been Working Overtime

Egg-Laying Contests In England Show High Average

British chickens have been working overtime this year. Reports of the 1931-32 egg-laying trials show that both averages and individual records are higher than in previous years.

For instance, 3,300 pullets entered in the national test at Milford, Surrey, returned an average of over 185 eggs per bird for 48 weeks. Four pullets laid over 300 eggs each, the highest score being 315 and the best, having regard to quality as well as quantity, being 314.

But the most amazing record of all had nothing to do with the tests; it was set up, quite involuntarily, by a hen which wandered into the line of play while a game of golf was in progress, and was hit by one of the balls. It jumped high in the air and then, when it came down, laid six eggs in rapid succession—two with shells and four without.—Answers.

Explanations and Comments

The Birth Of Jesus At Bethlehem, verses 1-7.—When Caesar ordered the enrollment of everyone in the Roman Empire, the people of Palestine went each to "his own city" to be enrolled. Bethlehem had been the home of David, their ancestor, and therefore Mary and Joseph went from Nazareth of Galilee, where they were living, to Bethlehem to be enrolled. There Jesus was born, and Mary laid Him in a manger, because there had been no room for them in the inn.

The Story Of The Shepherds and the Angels, verses 8-14.—"Be not afraid," he beheld, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people," were the angel's glad words heard by shepherds who were watching their flocks in the fields near Bethlehem on the night that Jesus was born. And the good tidings was this: "There is born to you this day in the City of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord." Christ is the title of Jesus as the One consecrated to be the Redeemer of the world, for it means "The Anointed One."

"The Son of God became Son of Man that sons of men might become sons of God."

"And this is the sign unto you: Ye shall find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger," the angel explained. The "sign" was in the unexpected circumstance of the babe's being cradled in a manger. The swaddling clothes were the bands of cloth which the Oriental mother wraps tightly around the body of her babe, confining the legs and arms.

Suddenly a multitude of the heavenly host appeared praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men in whom He is well pleased."

The secret of the true Christmas spirit is in forgetting self and finding one's happiness in others' joys. It is the spirit of the heavenly host; their personalities are in the background as they sing their tidings of great joy to the world.

"For somehow, not only at Christmas, but all the long year through, the joy that you give to others, is the joy that comes back to you."

Relief Commission

Saskatchewan Body To Accept Responsibility For Unemployed Girls

The Saskatchewan relief commission accepts full responsibility for single girls physically able to accept positions on farms, once they are placed.

This is the interpretation placed on the agreement forwarded from Ottawa following a series of conferences between provincial government and relief commission officials, and was given by C. B. Daniel, general manager of the Saskatchewan relief commission.

The commission assumes no responsibility for such persons until they are actually placed. They remain a charge on the municipality, town or village until such time.

The commission is empowered, pending placement, to pay to accepted organizations such as municipalities and relief committees, the actual cost of food and shelter for single homeless unemployed men and women, physically fitted to accept work on farms, or in the case of men, to enter a concentration camp, providing such appropriate food, clothing and shelter allowance does not exceed 40 cents per man-day.

Ottawa has been wired by the commission seeking clarification on the question as to whether single unemployed girls may be placed in city homes under the government assisted scheme, and also whether the commission may place them with organization such as the Y.W.C.A. and pay up to 40 cents per day for their keep.

Wireless Telephone

Will It In Time Supplant The Old Morse Code?

Wireless telephone has swept away much of the usefulness of the Morse Code. And now comes the news that its place in the British post office telephone system is being taken by the teleprinter. But I think it will be a long time before they kill the romance of the Morse Code in the public eye.

The first words ever tapped out by Morse were "What has God wrought?" They were sent from Washington to Baltimore on May 24, 1844, by Samuel Morse, whose electromagnetic telegraph was regarded as a wild scheme—until he succeeded.

The most important message sent transmitted was a ship in distress—the "Q. Q. D" which signified "Come Quickly, Help."

But nowadays if an airman is in distress, he does not send out an "O. S. S." He just speaks the word "Mayday" into his wireless telephone. That word is said to be a corruption of the French "M'Aidez" (Help Me).

No Premium On Gold

Vancouver Banker Had Edge On United States Citizen

A United States citizen presented some bills, silver dollars and several $5 gold pieces of his country's currency at a Vancouver bank. He got 19 cents premium on the dollar for his bills, eight cents on his silver and nothing on his gold.

He protested against the discrimination against gold in favor of paper, but the banker explained: "Your gold pieces are worth no more to us than Canadian gold pieces of the same face value. We will give $5 in Canadian bills for a $5 Canadian gold piece, and we can give no more for an American gold piece of the same amount."

"But I thought you were paying a premium on gold?"

"On raw gold from the mines," replied the banker.

"And, by the way," stated the banker, "you will have to leave the gold here now, because it is illegal to take gold out of Canada without a Government license."

Watch Returned By Thief

Accusing Ticks Have Battered Him For Thirty Years

For 30 years a watch has ticked the guilt of a man of Dusseldorf, Germany. Unable to stand the accusing ticks any longer the thief has just sent it to the police anonymously with a note explaining that he had taken the timepiece from the table at the bedside of a sleeping man. He added that he hoped the man was still alive because it was certain that the robbed one would be as pleased to get the watch as the writer was to get rid of it.

The difference between talk and conversation is that the latter is listened to by others beside the speaker.

Telephones

In Canada

Canadians Appear To Have a Decided Partiality For Using the Phone

It may be natural for Canadians to have a decided partiality for using the telephone for conversational purposes because of the fact that it is a Canadian invention. In 1931 the total number of telephone conversations in Canada was 2,564,641,000, or an average of 1,800 per telephone, which is a higher average than any other country.

The total number of telephone systems in use in Canada at the end of 1931, according to a report just issued by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics, was 1,364,200, an average of 13.15 telephones per 100 of the population of the Dominion which was 10,374,000 as at the 1931 census. Only the United States exceeds Canada in density of telephones with 16.4 per 100 of population. Germany with 2,248,854 and Great Britain and Northern Ireland with 1,996,897 telephones have a larger number of telephones, but the averages per 100 of population in those countries are five and 4.3 respectively. France with 1,153,560 telephones has a density of 2.8 per 100 of population.

The total investment in telephone systems in Canada at the year under review is placed at $335,055,119 or approximately $32 per telephone. The investment has more than doubled since 1921 and since 1926 has increased $105,899,219.

The latest report shows there are 2,414 telephone systems in the Dominion, of which 1,537 are owned by co-operative companies, 1,174 of these being in the Province of Saskatchewan, and 202 in Nova Scotia. The telephone wire mileage throughout Canada is over 4,750,000.

Western Canada Coal Trade

Formulating Plans To Make a Survey In the West

Preliminary inquiries in regard to the western Canadian coal trade are proceeding and the registrar of the Combines Investigating Board has just appointed a western man to undertake a survey in the west.

The preliminary inquiries are being made at Ottawa, where there is a large amount of information available in various departments of government. Long questionnaires are being sent to the coal companies and the answers are being compiled, in order that the combines officials may get a clearer view of the industry. When these inquiries are completed, the question of the appointment of a western commissioner to make more complete inquiries will arise.

No More U.S. Sauce

Tobacco sauce, the fiery pepper preparation from southern Louisiana, has aroused the official disapproval. Since the sauce is U.S. in origin it has been decided to purchase no more of it for the famed House of Commons restaurant. Money In Pin Business

Canadian Product Is Daily Use All Over World

Here is what the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has to say about Canada's trade in pins:

From babyhood to the sunset of our days every mother's son of us has need of pins—safety pins at first, any old pins later, whatever we can discover handy when buttons break loose from their moorings. Milady's chamber could never get along without pins, all sorts and conditions of them, but pins not so much lately. The seamstress with a score of pins between her lips would be in a hopeless state without them. Pins we need, all of us, even the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Therefore there is real romance in the pin business. It is a fine art of manufacture in which Canada excels. All over the world Canadian pins are in daily use. The maids of Iceland and the Maori beauties of New Zealand, the sailmakers of Brazil, the Chinese fighters, Japanese, Belgians, Cubans, Greeks, Germans, Spaniards and hosts of others all want Canadian pins, and get them.

The export during the first seven months of the present fiscal year was valued at $375,437, a veritable mountain of pins. Great Britain took most, the value being $318,949; Australia, $18,666; China, $3,203; Mexico, $3,888; Argentina, $3,832; Japan, $2,455; Venezuela, $2,426; Brazil, $2,326; British South Africa, $2,072; France $1,852; Spain, $1,356; Czechoslovakia, $1,080; Colombia, $1,045, and so on to the farthest corner of the continents and all their islands. It is a growing trade.

Story Denied By Soviets

Government Has Made No Anti-Religious Match Box Labels

A storm of protest and ridicule was evoked in Moscow by a fantastic tale of godless matches shipped to Britain in coffins, published in a London newspaper.

The London story in question alleged that "the Soviet Government now is making mockery of the figure of Christ as a trademark on a match-box" and these blasphemous boxes were being distributed in Britain, having been smuggled into the country which never has appeared in Russia. The matches now sold carry innocent designs giving the name of the factory which produced them.

The labels, in fact, are most un-Soviet, for the most part, a few of them even have a patriotic and religious flavor. The explanation for this, of course, lies in the fact that foreign importers of matches, including British firms, design their own labels. Some of the names among the scores used are "Fair Play," "Templavanc," "Ella," "Orient," "Grape," "Elephant," "Festival." Soviet match exports in the first nine months of 1932 amounted to 400,000 customs cases, valued at about 1,000,000 roubles. About one-third of the exports went to Britain. The total represents a sharp decline from the high mark of 1,500,000 customs cases exported in 1929-30, but a considerable increase is expected for 1933.

Land Annuity Tax

Irish Farmers Must Pay Tax To Free State Government

A court decree was issued at Cork, Ireland, requiring a defaulting farmer to pay his land annuity tax to the government despite the fact the government has refused to pay annuities to the Bank of England. The case was brought to test the validity of annuities collections.

The defendant contended the government had no right to divert the annuities from the fund which had been set up originally for the purpose of repaying the Bank of England money it loaned to buy freehold for Irish tenants who had previously rented their farms from landlords. He contended further he had already paid the tax through the United Kingdom's special duty of 50 per cent. on imports of Free State cattle which grew out of the country's refusal to remit the annuities.

Lumber Output Assured

The forests of Nova Scotia are estimated as being capable of furnishing annually in perpetuum 200 million board feet of softwood lumber, 100 million board feet of hardwood lumber, and 10 million cubic feet of pit props and cordwood.

The common "fishin'" worm, or angle worm, is often called a dew worm in some sections of the United States.

First Roll-Proof Liner

Italian Vessel Designed To Prevent Senseless Sails On Malden Voyage

The world's first roll-proof liner, designed to prevent seasickness, sailed recently from Genoa on her maiden voyage to New York. She is the 48,000-ton "Conte di Savoia," and she was built to keep an even keel in the roughest sea.

Three 100-ton rotors whirling in her hold are counted upon to keep her decks straight. When waves start the ship rolling the gyroscopes begin spinning, and this process develops a stabilizing force which tends to keep the vessel on an even keel.

They are American-made gyro-stabilizers heretofore used only on warships and yachts. The Italian line spent $1,000,000 to install them. The Beacon-Herald of Stratford, Ont., says: "Some folk say that being tossed about in rough weather does not bother them. Such statements we always accept with a grain of salt. One poet wrote 'On the raging seas have joys for me.' " and they had it printed in the school books years ago. We believe it has since been discontinued, and wisely so.

If that Italian boat can make the decks quit coming up to meet the feet; if it can keep the beds from moving up and down and wobbling sideways at the next turn, then indeed will great joy be brought to thousands who feel seasick even before they go on board, and more so after they do."

Clouds Great Menace To Atlantic Flights

All Other Hazards Minimized Opinion Of "Weather Men"

So far has aviation conquered trans-Atlantic flying obstacles that clouds now are the greatest hazard. With this conclusion James H. Kimball, the "weather mentor" of all trans-Atlantic flights from Lindbergh's to the present, summed up the prospects of coming Atlantic air service before the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at New York.

"Improvements in 'planes, motors and instruments," he said, "have minimized the dangers of storms and failing motors, once regarded as the twin terrors of ocean fliers. It is clouds which form the greatest hazard, for who can look with complacency on a flight that must require a long struggle in a blinding turbulent medium threatening the plane with ice or dismemberment?"

Scientists Are Puzzled

Skeletons Of Strange Animals Unearthed In Western States

Skeletons of strange animals that once roamed through Nebraska, South Dakota, and Wyoming 6,000,000 years ago have been unearthed by a Smithsonian Institution expedition.

According to a report just issued the fossils of the animals found include bones of three-toed horses, enormous pigs, sabre tooth cats, ancient dogs about the size of the present-day fox, miniature camels, prehistoric hawks.

The most abundant of the fossils excavated by the expedition were those of the extinct oreodonts. They were pig-like mammals, that died without leaving any relatives among the present-day animals.

In Midst Of Plenty

Thousands Drawing Relief With Granaries Filled To Overflowing

The paradoxical situation is that there is want in the midst of plenty. We, in Canada have had an excellent crop this year. Elevators are filled to overflowing and millions of bushels of wheat are stored in granaries, yet 520,000 of Canada's 10,000,000 population apart from the 280,000 normally unemployed depend for their existence on relief payments drawn from the public treasury. And still, Canada's economic situation is not the worst by any means.—Kitchenier Record.

Distribution Of Phones

British Columbia Leads All the Provinces In Use Of Telephones

British Columbians go in for telephones in a big way and lead the provinces in the use of that instrument, with 18.5 'phones for every 100 of population in 1931, says a bureau of statistics report. Ontario came next with 18.1; Manitoba and Quebec both 10.5; Alberta, 9.6; Nova Scotia, 9.1; Saskatchewan, 9.0; New Brunswick, 8.3, and Prince Edward Island, 6.6.

The oat king and the wheat king have been crowned at Chicago, and both of them are Canadians. The Canadian wild oat champion remains to be identified.

A Family Of Leaders

Lyttons Have Served Every British Monarch Since Henry IV

Not the least interesting point about the Lytton commission's report on Japan's doings in Manchuria is the fact that a Lytton was chairman. Lord Lytton is a member of that older British aristocracy which has always accepted the responsibility and duty of public service that is applied in authority.

The Lytton family has been serving every British monarch since Henry IV.; each generation has contributed its talents, such as they have been, to the state. And in this it is no different in tradition from such other great governing families as the Cecils, the Howards, the Sackvilles, the Spencers and the Churchills.

Changes are proposed, are accepted and are finally discarded in favor of other changes. An insular nation develops into a great empire; that empire, in turn, undergoes profound changes; that empire decides to enter into an experiment in Internationalism such as the League. Always, with a consistency that is astounding, these great families continue to produce their share of leaders. It may seem a little extravagant to say so, but we suspect that were revolution to come to Great Britain a Lytton, a Sackville or a Cecil would be found as confidential adviser to the chief commissar.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Allice Michell

LATE AFTERNOON

Eastward shades are slanting longer
On the meadows at our feet
Now the need of rest is stronger
And the thought of rest is sweet
As the day is growing older
Like a rose that slowly fades,
And the creeping shadows, bolder,

Slowly wane the careless rapture
Of the heart like waning light,
And long the day can recapture
Life's first ardor, youth's delight;
But the joy of youth still lingers
As remembered roses glow,
After Time has laid chill fingers
On the garden, swathed in snow.

Though the past's triumphant legions
Now in silence must retreat,
Feet have touched these twilight
regions,
Where the thought of rest is sweet.

War Spirit Exists

The World In Need Of A New Spirit Of Confidence

"What the world needs is a new spirit of understanding and confidence," said Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), on arrival after a visit to Europe.

"We are still living in the spirit of the war, and though there are hopeful signs that we are awakening to new ideals, we still have a long way to go."

Five weeks of his tour he spent in Geneva, where he followed the League of Nations.

"While the world waits sensational action on the part of the league, such questions as the Sino-Japanese issue in Manchuria," he said, "the statesmen at Geneva are carefully considering and gradually coming to understand every aspect of the situation, moving gradually and diplomatically to a solution."

Dr. Gordon expressed the opinion the present system of finance is breaking down. "Money should grease the wheels of industry, not impede them," he declared.

Japan Would Abolish All Aircraft Carriers

Would Also Reduce Capital Ships To 25,000 Tons

Japan's naval disarmament plan, soon to be submitted to the disarmament conference, provides abolition of aircraft carriers, reduction of capital ships to 24,000 tons and of their gun calibre to 14 inches, and retention of submarines.

Vice-Admiral Osami Nagano, disclosed these provisions. He added that reduction in the size of cruisers and destroyers also is advocated but he would give no details. Japan also will propose prohibition of decks and platforms on capital ships from which aircraft might take off.

There is NO ODOR from FISH

or from Vegetables cooked in CANAPAR

Boiled, or steamed, fish comes out firm and solid, swimming in its own juice, when you seal it up in Canapar Cookery Parchment. No fishy odor. No gummy steamer as saucepan to clean out afterwards.

And vegetables are simply delicious. Using Canapar you can cook three at once in the same pot over one burner turned low. Canapar acts on them as it does on fish. Retains all the mineral salts and flavor. Fat and juices from meat won't burn if you line your roasting pan with Canapar. No pan-scraping afterwards.

Canapar only costs 25 cents for a large envelope. You can use each sheet repeatedly because it won't absorb odors. Makes perfect fish loach because it is silky, strong, and doesn't spread lint.

Special Offer

CANAPAR is made by the makers of the famous PARASANI Heavy Waxed Paper in the Green Box. Most grocers, druggists and department stores have Canapar on sale, but if you can't send coupon direct to the makers we will give you a new and unique cook book entitled "Lettovers," containing one hundred recipes as a bonus for your trouble.

Little Help For This Week

"In the morning then shall ye see the glory of the Lord."—Exodus 16:7. "Serving the Lord; rejoicing in hope."—Romans 13:11.

Every day is a fresh beginning. Every moment is the world made new. You are weary of sorrow and sinning. Here is a beautiful hope for you: A hope for me, and a hope for you. —Susan Coolidge.

Be patient with every one, but above all with yourself. Do not be disturbed because of your imperfections, and always rise up bravely from a fall. You can make a daily new beginning, and there is no better means of progress in the spiritual life than to be continually beginning afresh, and never to think we have done enough.—Francis De Sales.

Because perseverance is so difficult, even when supported by the grace of God, there is the value of new beginnings. For new beginnings are the life of perseverance.—E. B. Pusey.

Abandon Submarine

British Sub M-2 Will Not Be Salvaged, Admiralty Decides

Attempt to raise the British submarine M-2, which sank off Portland last January, 1932, with the loss of 56 lives, finally was abandoned by the admiralty after months of vain toil.

Salvage ships succeeded in getting the stern to the surface, but officials in charge decided they would not be able to bring up the bow. The M-2 will sink back to the bottom of the channel to make her grave in the mud and sand there.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

"What means that star," the shepherds said,
"That brightens through the rocky glen?"
And angels answering overhead
Sang, "Peace on earth, good-will to men."
At Christmas, play and make good cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year.

Christmas is with us again, therefore we have the holiday spirit. No matter what the ups and downs of the year may have been the Christmas spirit will not be denied. Little children will always believe there is a Santa Claus; older people will always revere the day for its happy associations of years passed. Christmas carols will be sung in the churches, and the discourse on the Saviour of Mankind. It is a day when feelings towards one's enemies are softened, when people are inclined to bury the hatchet at least for the holiday season, even if the hatchet is left sticking up.

Concerning enemies burying the hatchet, an incident of Christmas in 1914 in Ploegstreet Wood is recalled. By a gentleman's agreement on that sector of the war front, not a shot was fired across "No Man's Land." On towards the afternoon German and "Tommy's" fraternized on the very ground across which the previous week they had been trying to annihilate each other. They exchanged cigarettes and talked over the battles in which the Rifle Brigade and the Somerset Light Infantry had tried to storm the German trenches. "Fritz" told the British that they had very little chance, as they were comfortably ensconced behind loop-holed iron plates and were able to shoot at the advancing troops as if they were jack rabbits. With no evidence of bitterness they exchanged views, following which they went back to their respective trenches and the war continued. The incident serves to show how the spirit of "Peace on earth, goodwill towards men" will rise above all other feelings. What a pity the Christmas spirit does not continue throughout the year. The idealists and practical Christians who off remind us that people need to turn to God to iron out our difficulties are right. The pure materialists are decidedly wrong, particularly those who tell little children there is no Santa Claus and no God.

It is pleasing to note that the needy will be taken care of through the local relief fund. The local miners association combined with those outside of the ranks of mine workers, will join in contributing towards the Christmas cheer for the less fortunate. This is illustrating the fact that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

That youth must have its fling is evidenced by the plethora of dances of 15 cars.

announced for the Christmas season. Commencing tomorrow evening (Friday) the Adanac Club will open the holiday season, and at Bellevue people will commence to dance shortly after midnight on Sunday. Various other clubs are holding dances throughout Christmas and New Year week, giving partisans of the dance plenty of opportunity to get rid of indigestion or stoddiness from eating hearty Christmas meals. Evidently people still believe in the old song: "For tonight we'll merry, merry be; tomorrow will be sober." After all, why shouldn't people be merry at Christmas time? Life has plenty of dull and prosaic periods, struggling with the eternal problem of overcoming trials and troubles.

High school pupils will welcome the holidays after the strenuous grind of December examinations. Closing today, schools will re-open on January 4. Doubtless ambitious students will welcome 1933 with smiling faces and determination to start the year with renewed ambition to excel.

I have always thought of Christmas time as a good time, a kind, forgiving, charitable time, the only time I know of in the long calendar of the year when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely. And, though it has never put a scrap of gold or silver in my pocket, I believe it has done me good, and will do me good, and I say God Bless It.—Charles Dickens.

"The belief that it is a duty of the community to provide the individual either with work or relief is growing, and it may not be very long before public opinion makes itself felt in legislative action which will make unemployment insurance mandatory on industry."—Christian Science Monitor.

We hear of many and varied "efficiency" stunts, but the latest is that of the reporter who was so up-to-the-minute with his reports that he had a portable typewriter slung over his shoulder, and typed his stories right on the spot.

RED-HOT GAME LOOKED FOR BETWEEN BULL TERRIERS AND CANADIANS.

Bellevue Bull Terriers and Coleman Canadians will play here on Friday night, Dec. 23. The fact that these teams are so closely matched will draw a big gate. Blairmore Bears at time of writing are at the bottom of the league, though they are confident they will not remain there. Ken rivalry will make for keen interest by the fans. But Coleman fans have their eye on the Crow League championship, and with such a good start intend to put forth every effort to capture the premier honors this season. Give the boys encouragement by turning out.

ADAMACS MAINTAIN LIVELY PROGRAMS FOR CLUB ACTIVITIES

Friday, December 16, again saw the Adamacs in action. After the grave oratory of the business meeting, a ping-pong tournament was held, Mrs. A. E. Graham and Isabel Atkinson being crowned queens of the court in the ladies' doubles. Scott McLintock and Ken Blain have to fight it out next week for the grand championship. The loser will automatically become reserve grand champion.

As Mrs. A. E. Graham and Scott McLintock already have their names in this column, we will not divulge the names of the lady and gent who won the prizes in the whist drive that followed.

The club basketball team are now whipping themselves into shape to meet all comers; several of the players seemed to be dancing with great difficulty as a result. Dancing continued until midnight so that all would be in shape for the big Christmas dance on Dec. 23rd. Oh boy!

LOCAL POSTAL SERVICE APPRECIATED

The new time-table by which mail is sorted and ready for delivery shortly after 8 a.m. is appreciated by the stores and offices, who can start work on the day's mail bright and early. It is not so good for Postmaster Frank Graham, who has to be on hand at 2:21 every morning to take delivery from the westbound train.

But despite having to content himself with a short night's rest, he retains his pleasant smile and courteous attitude towards all and sundry. Up to the present, Frank remarks that no anxious person has turned up asking "is there any mail for me?" at that time of the morning.

United Church Notes

Next Sunday being Christmas Day the following services will be held: Morning worship combined with the Sunday School at 11 a.m. There will be special music in which the children will take a large part. A brief Xmas message will be given by the minister, entitled "Unto Him Shall the Gathering of the People Be."

The evening service will feature carol singing. The choir will render an anthem entitled "Aris, Shine for Thy Light is Come." If possible to arrange for the same there will be one or two solos. The minister will give a brief Christmas meditation on the topic "What if Christ had Never Been?" The Sacrament of Baptism will be administered; should there be any mothers desiring their children baptized, will such please let the minister know of any children to be baptized not later than Saturday.

The creation and minister take this opportunity of wishing each and every member, adherent, and friend of the church, and those of every communion the heartiest Christmas Greetings and Best Wishes for a Happy and Satisfying New Year. May we remember at this happy Christmas time that Christ gives Himself to us. He is the gift. He comes in all the appealing gift, for He comes in all the wondrous beauty of the Divine Child. The most cordial invitation is extended to all to come and worship with us on Christmas Day. Strangers and visitors will be made welcome.

"Praise His name in all the earth,
Hail the King of Glory."
—Rev. Roy C. Taylor, B.A., B.D., Minister.

Palpitation of the Heart Nerves Bad - Could Not Sleep

Mrs. Fred Bingham, Swift Current, Sask., writes: "I was bothered with palpitation of the heart, and my nerves were so bad I could not sleep."

I was getting desperate and confided my trouble to a friend who recommended me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I purchased a box and got such relief I would gladly recommend them to all who are troubled as I was."

What Really Counts?

What is the thing that really counts in your life? Many people who had always accepted what life brought to them from day to day without giving much thought to the matter are in these times, as a result of experiences through which they or relatives and close friends are passing, or as the outcome of their reading and observation, being compelled by the very impact of the present conditions to seriously ask themselves what, after all, is the thing that really counts in my life?

Take the case of a man known to the writer, having for more than a quarter of a century held responsible positions in one of our Western Provinces, and received a very gratifying salary, he suddenly found himself three years ago thrown out of his employment. Since then he has had no secured position but has employed his energies in various ways and in return for such remuneration as it was possible to obtain.

Today his income is at its lowest point yet touched. He is aware it may further shrink if not entirely disappear, as has been the experience of so many.

During these past three years this man has seen the value of such property as he possessed reduced to fifty cents on the dollar of its former value, and it is presently unsaleable at such a reduced figure. Such reserves as he was able to build up are steadily disappearing, and he is now approaching three score years of age.

Has he become discouraged, embittered, railing at his fate, and ready to turn and rend somebody else, or some institution or corporation, or the whole system of economics and government under which he lives, which he himself helped to build up, and under which he is now sustaining loss where formerly he profited? That is, does he regard material things as the things that really count? No, although he cannot see light ahead at the end of the tunnel through which the world is passing, he is not discouraged nor embittered. He has not the slightest desire "to take it out" on somebody else. While recognizing, as every observant person and student of affairs must recognize, that changes and reforms are urgently, imperatively required in our social, economic and political structure, he also recognizes that he must accept his full share of the responsibility for the mistakes of the past, and that, instead of throwing all the blame on the system, or on those whom he assisted to place in positions of authority to administer that system, some of that blame must be apportioned to himself. If others made mistakes, so did he, and he is fair enough to admit it. He realizes where he made mistakes, not deliberately, but in the belief that he was doing the wise thing, but mistakes nevertheless. Why then lay all the blame on the system he helped to create and develop, which for years he upheld, or upon those now in charge of that system and struggling against an accumulation of past mistakes, - his own included, - as well as the mistakes of others in far-distant lands over which they had no control but whose mistakes re-act upon us, as ours re-act upon them?

This man is no high idealist. He has a healthy respect for the purely material things of life. He enjoyed them in the past; he acutely misses them now; he hopes to enjoy them again. But he has learned to realize that, after all, they are not what really count in life. He has health, and when he sees others in sickness, possibly suffering and slowly dying of an incurable disease, he is thankful for something far exceeding great riches.

If he alone had suffered loss, he might feel embittered. But when he sees countless thousands who have sustained similar, possibly greater losses, he feels no bitterness, but a new and greater sympathy with everybody else. His old indifference to many questions and problems, his reluctance to give of his time, talents and energy to their solution, has passed away. He is not "too busy" now, with his own selfish concerns that he has no time to devote to public and community affairs. He has discovered there is something much bigger and infinitely more important than himself and his personal affairs.

He may not weather the storm of the depression in which he, with so many others, is engulfed, although he is not the type to give up. But while a loser in one sense, he is a gainer in another, and the whole world is the gainer too. The universal experience of losing something, is having a humanizing effect not only on this man, but on hundreds of men and women. Puzzled as they may be by present conditions, the youth of today will be stronger than those of the past generation who were cradled in the lap of prosperity. If, indeed, not of luxury.

From the experiences of the present it is not possible that we all may learn that it is not what happens to us but what happens within us in times of stress that determines whether we are defeated or victorious; that whether we win or lose does not matter so much, but rather how we bear the battle through?

Hard On the Fixers

Pittsburg Issues Triplicate Ticket For Violation Of Traffic

Something new in "tags" for traffic violations—a ticket which authorities say "can't be fixed"—has been introduced in Pittsburg. The new tag is issued in triplicate, one copy going to the offender another to the traffic court, and a third to the controller, who will be obliged to check back on every ticket issued. "Now," said one traffic officer, "we'll see if the fixers and their politician friends can get around this one."

Have Stood Heavy Loss

British Steel Firm Drops £247,000 On Bridge Contract

Few companies of any size have escaped the toll of heavy losses in the last year or two. An outstanding case is that of the Dorman, Long Company of London, England, one of the foremost iron and steel companies in the world. Contracting for the construction of the great bridge over the harbor at Sydney, Australia, the company admits dropping £247,000, £420,000 project. Depreciation, during the four years construction period, and adverse exchange rates, are said to have contributed largely to the loss.

Not Greatly Impressed

An American in England was giving some illustrations of the size of his country.

"You can board a train in the State of Texas at dawn," he said, impressively, and twenty-four hours later you'll be in the States."

"Yes," said one of his English listeners, with feeling, "we've got trains like that here, too."

May Broadcast Power Without Any Wires

Young Kitchener Inventor Claims He Has Discovered Method

Two years of experimenting have resulted in his discovery of a method to transmit electric power long distances without wires, is the claim of 22-year-old Frank Fedy of Kitchener, Ontario.

Fedy, a former insurance agent, said he demonstrated his equipment for engineers in Toronto and that his apparatus functioned perfectly. Power broadcast from his transmitting stations was picked up two blocks distant.

An engineer, who was in Kitchener from Toronto admitted that the experiment showed Fedy "has something." The young inventor is going to Montreal to demonstrate there. He is visualizing a central transmitting station in Kitchener, which would broadcast electrical energy to heat and light homes in the city and in the surrounding country for a radius of 100 miles.

An aerial on the roof of a house, similar to a radio antenna would take the power from the air.

A receiving outfit could be manufactured to sell as little as $5, the inventor said. He added he has secured financial backing in Toronto to the extent of $30,000.

For two years after he graduated from St. Jerome's College at Kitchener, Fedy worked as an insurance agent, "just to pay expenses" so he could continue his experiment in the privacy of his boarding house bedroom. In July he met with an automobile accident, which rendered him blind for a month. His eyesight is not yet completely restored, but he has finished his invention.

Too Good To Be True

New Method Claimed To Cut Auto Oil Bill In Two

The possibility of cutting automobile oil bills in half by a new method of refining oil was predicted at a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers by William F. Parish and Leon Cammen of New York. The report, however, was criticized by a half dozen other speakers, who held that claims were "amazing" and "doubtful."

The Parish-Cammen report said that under the new system the crankcase will never have to be drained, and the engine will develop more power and use less gasoline. Ten years of practical tests were cited to back their contention that in all kinds of engines and under all varieties of road conditions nearly all kinds of oil can be made by the new process to out-perform anything now produced.

The oil in these tests was crankcase drainings, the sticky stuff motorists throw away. Parish and Cammen cleaned this oil and in all cases claimed to have brought forth a better lubricant than the original. Worms however generated, are found in the digestive tract, where they set up disturbances detrimental to the health of the child. There can be no comfort for the little one from the hurtful intruders have been expelled. An excellent preparation for this purpose can be had in Miller's Worm Powders. They will immediately destroy the worms and correct the conditions that were favorable to their existence.

A Strange Story

Family Living Near Chicago Had Never Seen Street Cars, Moving Pictures Or Radio

The strange story of an isolation so complete that none of a family of nine children has ever seen a moving picture, a street car or radio, although they have lived all their lives near Chicago, came to light recently. They are the children of Joseph Steiff, 60, a farmer of Wheeling, Ill., who came to the United States 80 years ago from Russia.

The story was revealed when Steiff appealed to police to find his oldest child, Mary, aged 23, who fled from her home. The authorities were told she left because a dove flew around her head and she regarded this as an evil omen. She later was found at the home of a neighbor.

The return of prosperity to Britain and all other countries, depends first and foremost on the achievement of sane international agreement to relieve the burden and the increase of armaments to remove the incubus of debts, to remedy the causes which have thrown the currencies of half the world into the melting pot and to cut the bonds which strangle international trade.

Singing Fiddler Lost Hope Hollow

Aged Musician From Kentucky To Attend Song Festival In London

On his way to attend the National Folk Song Festival in Albert Hall, London, England, Jilson Setters, the "singing fiddler of Lost Hope Hollow" has sailed on the Cunarder "Samaria" from New York. This last minstrel of the Southern Appalachian Mountains, will be a featured performer at the festival.

Mr. Setters, who is now more than seventy years of age, was blind for sixty years. Early in youth he learned to play the violin. Of English stock, he learned the songs and tunes of England from his parents and other members of his family, and has since carried them "in his head." He made a specialty of Elizabethan ballads which had been handed down by word of mouth from generation to generation.

A few years ago while S. L. Rothwell, "Rocky" was journeying through Kentucky, he heard Setters play and was instrumental in bringing him to the attention of the American public. Since then he has been on the air several times, singing his songs and playing his fiddle in a way that has brought delight to thousands of listeners.

Recently recovering his sight, the world is all very new to him. He looks forward with keen delight to his visit in England. He is eager to see the "land of the milk-white steed and a gypsy queen," like his old songs he describes. He expects to find the quaint England of three hundred years ago.

So familiar with written notes, Mr. Setters is a born musician. His skill has been described as inimitable. He bows with the left hand, and he cradles his violin in his right arm.

The aged musician inherits his love of music from his grandfather, who was the first wandering music teacher in the mountains of Kentucky. Some of his songs are long, but he has any sign of an intermission. He insists on singing a ballad to the end so that "folks will know if the prince was joined in wedlock to the love of her heart," or if a cruel lord separated her from the one she loved.

On his trip to England he will carry his "wearing clothes" in a home-made hickory basket. He will also carry a gourd from which he will drink water, even while in the land of brown stout and amber ale. He still carries his fiddle in a cloth poke just as he did years ago when he roamed or was led over the high hills of Kentucky, often being the entire orchestra at a barn dance or a house party.

He will be accompanied on his tour by Miss Jean Thomas of 17 East 8th Street, New York, founder of the American Folk Song Society, of which he is a member. Mr. Setters, who is blind, is accompanied by Miss Thomas, who is active member. Miss Thomas had written newspaper articles about Setters years before he came to the attention of "Rocky."

When Mr. Setters returns from England he intends to retire to his old windowless cabin at Lost Hope Hollow, in the Kentucky hills, there to ponder over the great curiosities he viewed in the "outside world."

Tells Of Life In Russia

Communists Small Percentage Of Population Says B.C. Engineer

Expressing a lack of faith in the Russian five-year plan and voicing the opinion "there is probably as big a percentage of Communists in Vancouver as in Russia," J. A. McLaughlin, British Columbia mining engineer, who recently returned from a two years' residence in Russia, told Vancouver Board of Trade members of life as he found it in that country.

"You have to realize that there are only about 3,000,000 Communists in Russia, a country of 165,000,000 people. The Communist Central Committee is in complete control. The political police have the authority and people live in terror of them," he said.

Mr. McLaughlin went to Russia as engineer, and a copper mine development project, which the five-year plan called for production of 10,000 tons refined copper annually. But in two years only 600 tons in all were produced.

Rounding out a quarter century of continuous publication as a daily newspaper, the Lethbridge Herald issued a special 25th anniversary edition recently, in which appeared many congratulatory messages from Canadian public men and newspaper publishers to Senator W. A. Buchanan, publisher.

The Herald was first established as a weekly paper in the autumn of 1905 by F. E. Simpson, of Cranbrook, B.C., and W. A. Buchanan came from St. James, and purchased a half interest. Later he acquired the entire property and, on December 11, 1907, launched the Herald as a daily newspaper.

Members of the Western Associated Press from its inception and later of the Canadian Press when eastern and western Canadian co-operative news services were merged, the Herald has received a full leased wire press service since 1917.

Banquet Was Fatal To Chinese General

Poisonous Bone In Snake Dish On Menu Caused Death

Chu Chiao-Hsin, inspector-general of foreign affairs in the Canton government, and formerly chargé d'affaires in the Chinese legation in London, died suddenly following a dinner at naval headquarters in Canton.

Physicians said that snake poisoning caused death. The dinner was in honor of Admiral Sir Howard Kelly, commander-in-chief of the British naval forces in the Far East.

Mr. Chu was once the Chinese ambassador to Italy and also consul-general in San Francisco.

Snake was on the menu at the dinner given by the Naval club. Mr. Chu is believed to have swallowed a poisonous bone which the cook had overlooked.

Bank's Warning on Currency Inflation

BANK OF MONTREAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Montreal, held at the Bank's Headquarters, was largely attended. The report and statement of account, particulars of which have already been published, were unanimously adopted, and the retiring directors were unanimously re-elected.

Mr. Charles Gordon, the president, said that during the year they had been confronted with declining trade, dislocated foreign exchange, lessened demand for banking accommodation and low rates of interest in the world's monetary centres; yet the Bank had managed to earn fair profits, to preserve a strong liquid position and to meet the legitimate requirements of their customers.

W. A. Bog, joint general manager with Jackson Dudge, said in part: "Your Bank has come through this period with undiminished prestige, for it can be claimed without exaggeration that events have only served to emphasize the important and outstanding position which it occupies in the business affairs of this country."

Both the President and the General Manager spoke out strongly against any inflation of currency in Canada, as had been advocated in some quarters, in connection with a suggested establishment of a national central bank. Mr. Charles Gordon said that for 18 years, under the provisions of the Finance Act, Canada had had all the advantages which might come from a central bank, the legislation admirably performed its purpose in this respect. Monopoly of note issues by the Government, he declared, would not increase or diminish the amount of currency in the hands of the public, unless the notes were not purchased and recklessly emitted. From the time of the French Revolution in the 18th century, he said, the shore of financial history was strewn with the wrecks of ventures in irredeemable paper money, and if there was one fact in finance more firmly fixed than another it was the certainty that the unrestricted issue of currency would culminate in disaster. He added:

"I may point out, moreover, that we in Canada do not suffer from an inadequate credit or inadequate currency. Our banks welcome borrowers to whom they can safely lend and as trustees of deposits from whom their loaning resources are derived, banks ought not to lend on any other terms than the soundness of the security. So far as our banking system is concerned, it is well to remember that a single depositor has had to wait for a moment for his money from a Canadian bank during the past year, while tens of thousands of dollars have been deposited in the United States, only to be told finally that their bank had closed its doors. This is the argument that will appeal to most people."

No Time For Drifting

Unity Of Effort Should Be Aim Of Every Statesman

Over from England to join his wife in the United States, Viscount Astor says "We must do something definite, or there will be trouble."

One of the main obstacles is that whenever any State leader suggests anything, all his political enemies join forces to howl him down. It is time the so-called statesmen realized the folly of that course. This is an hour when unity of effort should be made, even if it does involve the sacrifice of some temporary political advantage.

Amy Johnson Lands At Croydon After Flight From Africa

Croydon Airport, London, England.

Amy Johnson landed here at noon Sunday, December 19, from Paris, completing a flight from Cape Town in the record time of seven days and seven hours. Ten thousand persons roared themselves hoarse as the intrepid young aviatrix stepped from her plane.

Long before Amy's arrival all roads leading to the airport were blocked by an apparently endless stream of automobiles bearing greetings and would-be greeters, some of whom came from as far away as the north of England.

Members of cycling clubs, out for weekend tours, converged on Croydon en masse.

Capt. J. A. Mollison, Amy's husband and the only man who has flown the Atlantic solo from east to west, was on hand hours before her plane was due and spent the morning eagerly scanning weather charts in the airport administration office.

Tremendous excitement prevailed as the drone of Amy's machine was heard overhead. The plane came in with a neat three-point landing and Miss Johnson stepped out into the arms of her husband. She was still carrying the sun helmet she had worn as she passed over the African deserts and jungles. She looked wan and tired but very cheerful.

Mollison kissed her repeatedly, seeming greatly relieved that the flight was over.

"Hullo, Amy," he said simply, "I'm very proud of you."

"Thanks, Jim," she answered, "I'm glad for your sake and my own."

Amy's parents and sister were also on hand to greet her before she was led away to a platform to receive an official welcome which included congratulations from the king.

Withdraw From League

Mexico Intends To Drop Out Of League Of Nations

Mexico City.—Mexico intends to withdraw from the League of Nations, it was learned from a semi-official source.

Reason for the decision, it was explained, is the necessity for economy. An official declaration is expected from the foreign office.

The cost of membership, ranging from $60,000 to $90,000 a year, is considered too heavy to be borne by Mexico, which is now struggling to balance its budget, the unofficial source said.

Death Of Senator Ross

Was First Member Elected In Yukon To Federal House

Victoria, B.C.—James Hamilton Ross, Canadian senator and pioneer of Moose Jaw, Sask., died at Victoria recently.

Senator Ross was 76 years old. He has resided with his daughter in Victoria for some months.

Hon. J. H. Ross, in celebrating his 76th birthday this year, was acclaimed as one of the notable pioneers of the west, especially of his home city, Moose Jaw, which he had watched grow from one of the most important railway centres of the west.

He was the first member elected in Yukon to the Federal House of Commons, this honor coming to him after 20 years of service in the public life of the prairies prior to the formation of the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

He was elected to the Northwest assembly in 1883, and retained his seat until 1901. In 1887 he had been an unsuccessful candidate for the Federal House in the constituency of West Assiniboia. As a member of the territorial executive council he was treasury commissioner of public works and territorial secretary.

In 1901 he was appointed commissioner of Yukon territory, and in 1902 was nominated by the Liberal party for the Federal Yukon seat. In 1903 he took his seat in the House of Commons and September 20, 1904, was summoned to the senate.

Soviet Delegates In London

Endeavour To Negotiate New Trade Agreement

London, Eng.—Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, and Major J. D. Colville, Minister of Overseas Trade, received delegates from Soviet Russia for negotiation of a new trade agreement. There was a short preliminary discussion.

After the Ottawa Imperial Conference last summer, the British Government announced it was terminating its trade agreement with the Soviet Government. At the Ottawa conference there was much criticism by spokesmen for the Dominions of alleged Russian dumping in the United Kingdom.

It was indicated then the British-Russo trade treaty would be abrogated and efforts made to draw up a new one.

Opening Of B.C. House

Revenue From Excise and Customs Decreased

Burt Collections From Income and Sales Tax Higher

Ottawa, Ont.—Sales tax increases are reflected in a jump of $19,281,640 in total excise tax collections for the eight-month period of the fiscal year which ended November 30. The total amount realized from excise tax collections during the period was $55,382,615 after deduction of refunds and drawbacks for the corresponding eight months a year ago, the sum of $36,106,974 was collected.

Customs and excise revenues show an appreciable falling-off from the figures for the preceding fiscal year. The net decrease is $10,302,245. For the 1932 period, total revenue was $131,801,529, compared with $144,253,575 for the 1931 period.

Customs duties are down also. During 1932 eight-month period customs duties, less refunds and drawbacks, amounted to $49,493,209 compared with $73,017,338 or a decrease of $23,523,128.

Coal Gas Kills Three

Small Children Inhale Deadly Fumes From Stove

Ottawa, Ont.—While their foster mother and her four children slept peacefully in another part of the house three one-year-old children inhaled deadly fumes from a kitchen coal stove and died.

The little tots, all wards of the city, were under the care of Mrs. Malvena Kirouac, who ran a supervised boarding home to supplement the meagre income she received as a charwoman at the Dominion Government Buildings.

Mrs. Kirouac put her own four children to bed upstairs and went to sleep herself on a couch in the dining room. She was awakened in the small hours of the morning and noticed a faint smell of gas.

Rushing to the kitchen she found two of the babies dead and called a doctor. The third child was rushed to hospital but died soon after its arrival.

Denies Intention To Murder Ex-Kaiser

Had Letter To Deliver Claims Man

Dorn, Holland.—Heinrich Fuehrer, caught in the former German Kaiser's castle with a loaded revolver and a 12-inch dagger, was turned over to German authorities after he had denied any intention to assassinate the ex-emperor.

Fuehrer, a native of Neusa-on-Rhine, claimed he entered Dorn House in an effort to deliver a letter to the ex-kaiser from Adolf Hitler, German fascist leader. He armed himself, Fuehrer said, as protection against possible attacks from dogs or servants on the premises.

He invaded the grounds by clinging to the side of an automobile. It was recalled that Germans have frequently made efforts to enter the former Kaiser's estate but this is the first time a man has been caught so heavily armed.

It was understood that the guard at the estate is to be strengthened with the additions of at least four men and several more police dogs.

Fire Follows Explosion

Defective Furnace In Montreal Store Causes Heavy Damage

Montreal, Que.—An explosion in the basement of a store followed by fire that swept through a night club and two other establishments caused damage estimated between $50,000 and $75,000.

The force of the explosion blew out a wall of the building and left a passage for the flames which spread rapidly. A defective furnace is believed to have caused the blast.

Firemen brought the blaze under control after an hour's work. Several persons narrowly escaped injury. Traffic on Ste. Catharines Street east was delayed for some time.

British Bandits Sentenced

London, Eng.—Two of the three bandits who on October 19 slugged a postman into insensibility in front of Euston station and made a daring theft of a bag of registered mail were sentenced in Old Bailey. Wider Markets Needed For World Recovery Says Mackenzie King

Toronto, Ont.—Canadian Liberalism today stands firmly for a reduction of tariffs and wider trade as a means of overcoming the present economic chaos.

Clearly and unmistakably Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Federal Leader, told an overflow audience that if Canada is to escape from the depression she must enjoy world trade as well as trade within the empire.

Mr. King attacked strongly the trade agreements reached at the Imperial Conference at Ottawa last July, and declared Prime Minister R. B. Bennett was seeking to form a "self-sufficing economic unit" which would slowly strangle Canada's trade. Speaking in London, England, on Dec. 12, the Prime Minister had said the common economic policy "is more strongly embedded in my being than anything I know and influences my political life at every point."

But, said Mr. King, the principle of a self-sufficing economic unit had been discarded years ago. Tariff walls could be raised to prevent other countries from dealing with Canada, but soon the day of reckoning would come and already there was a warning note of retaliation from other countries.

While Mr. Bennett thought other nations must pay tribute to trade within the British Empire, this could never be accomplished. "If we are to have this imperial economic policy—to have economic policies with regard to the balance of trade, currency, and migration, and transportation? If we are going to have our policies shaped by some imperial council, where is that council to come from?"

"Are we going to have men sit in secret conclave, as they did at Ottawa, and shape our policies and our future without allowing parliament anything to do with it? If the accepted position is that parliament cannot change these policies then you will have a situation that will work not for the solidarity, but for the dismemberment of the British Empire quicker than anything else can do it," he declared.

He referred briefly to the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation, newly formed political body. Formation of such bodies was inevitable under a Conservative regime and this had been borne out in history, he said. With the installation of a Liberal Government, the "third parties" disappeared in the ordinary course of events. They were formed because of the dissatisfaction of the people.

He could not, he said, condemn the leaders of such parties who were seeking only to better conditions. But the policy of the C.C.F. provided too much for the state to do, and he expressed doubt that it could be brought to a successful conclusion.

Speaking of the Commonwealth Federation, Mr. King declared: "If we are truly in earnest, if we are seeking better conditions and government, we must look well into the reforms which are sought and the methods through which they would be invoked."

"One objection I have to the C.C.F. is that it looks for too much for the state to do without realizing what that state will be. Is not the state already overburdened?" he asked. Should not the great task be to see that more responsibility be placed upon the people of the state rather than the state itself?"

Hope For Future

Premier Bennett Refers To Benefits From Imperial Conference

London, Eng.—In an earnest plea before an audience of notables, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada urged that agreements growing out of last summer's Ottawa economic conference be considered rather in the light of the hope they offered for the future than in that of present accomplishments.

Mr. Bennett spoke at an informal dinner in his honor which was presided over by Sir Robert Horne, a former Conservative Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Changes Predicted

New Business Methods To Be Developed In The Future

Vancouver, B.C.—The opinion that great changes are coming in business method, by the gradual failure of one system and the building up of another, was expressed by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in an address under the auspices of the junior chamber of commerce. The change would not come by drawing up some blue print plan, but through thinking it out day by day, he said.

Calgary, Alberta.—Two prospectors returned from the north recently with word of a coal discovery in the Great Bear Lake country where silver and radium has been found. H. B. Montgomery and Pete Davidson are the men who found the coal field and have staked it for a Calgary syndicate.

The coal discovery was made directly across the Great Bear Lake from Echo Bay. The men plan to return to the district next spring with a diamond drill to determine the field's extent.

Six Nations Pay While Five Default Obligations To U. S.

Washington.—The United States treasury's books recorded France, Belgium and three lesser European nations in default on their obligations to the United States while opposite the names of Great Britain, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Latvia and Lithuania was written the word "paid."

Thus the first general war debt payment date since inauguration of the Hoover one-year moratorium on inter-governmental debts—mid-summer a year ago—found the nations owing America sharply divided into two groups.

Excepting Italy, the paying nations—like the defaulters, had posted and employed all diplomatic means to win postponement of the installments and reconsideration of their entire war debt.

However, upon America's insistence that they pay, they chose to keep their credit standing with the United States unmarred. In so doing they heeded the reiterated urging of Secretary H. L. Stimson that such action would put them in preferred position to obtain a re-study of their obligations.

How the defaulters will face in this could not be foreseen. No official up to now had said a word as to this country's future course, but an impression was current that until some settlement of their past due payments has been made, these nations will receive no concessions from the United States.

The bitter feeling engendered in congress by France's refusal to pay manifested itself afresh in legislative proposals to hamper defaulting nations.

Senator Kenneth D. McKellar, Tennessee Democrat, offered a resolution to impose a $5,000 visa fee on American passports for defaulting countries. Representative Joseph E. Mansfield, Democrat from Texas, offered a similar plan, with the fee at $300 and the life of the passport only 90 days.

IF YOU CAN PAY, PLEASE DO SO

The Journal needs ready cash to meet its obligations, especially as the end of the year draws near. Several hundreds of subscriptions mean a tidy sum. Individually, your own subscription may not appear very much, but if all were to pay by the end of the year, our financial worries would be considerably alleviated. We would appreciate a ready response from our subscribers who may be in arrears and if it is impossible to pay the full amount, pay a half or quarter of the amount owing. It will help very considerably right now, and help in spending a Merry Christmas.

A concert party from Bellevue gave a very interesting program in the Palace theatre on Sunday afternoon, consisting of musical numbers, short sketches and dialogues.

That mysterious disease—Influenza—had its quota of sufferers in Coleman during the past two weeks. Sub-zero weather apparently was not sufficiently vigorous to exterminate the microbes responsible for the "Flu."

The local post office has been very busy, handling the heavy outgoing and incoming mail. If there is one man who earns his Christmas holiday, it is the postmaster, for the mails must move on time, no matter how heavy the volume to be handled. Make it as easy as possible by getting your Christmas cards and letters in at once.

The many friends and acquaintances of Miss Lola Altmatt will be interested to learn of her marriage to Mr. R. J. Connor, special constable, R.C.M.P., which took place at Altmatt on October 5. Rev. A. E. Larke officiating. The bride will be particularly remembered for her vigorous style as pianist in the orchestra which she conducted up till a few months ago, while the bridegroom has developed quite a wide acquaintance in the Pass towns during his term of duty.

On Wednesday, Dec. 14, a meeting of the vestries of St. Luke's, Blairmore, and St. Alban's, Coleman, was held at the Greenhill hotel, to discuss financial arrangements for 1933. Owing to there not being a quorum from either parish, no vote was taken on the proposals, though they were freely discussed. A further meeting will be called, at which it is hoped there will be sufficient members present to complete the business. The Diocesan secretary must be advised of the result of the meeting before the end of the year.
